

iPhone costume: how-tos

This area will be the phone's "desktop pattern," so your child can decorate it any way they choose.

On TOP of this area, your child can decorate several "app icons." Given that your piece of foamcore will measure 24 inches wide, each app should measure a square about 5 inches by 5 inches.

Round off the corners of the foamcore: trace a large-size coffee can - it's perfect.

Use black for the front, but any color for the back will do: you can let your kid go WILD.. After all, that's the PHONE COVER!

Let your kid go as creative/funny as can be with icon/app ideas.

To help you make it look "real," you can use the dark, teal-green bars on the next pages.

If you have a color printer, you'll have to trim and layer them to fit a standard size of foamcore board (24 inches wide by 36 inches long.)

These proportions won't be the same as a real iPhone - but it will fit a child best for walking around and collecting Halloween treats - and no one is likely to be checking.
